We are pleased to announce that the sixth Global Forum on Energy Security will be held in Beijing on June 26-27, 2017 under the auspices of the Chinese Academy of Social Sciences, the US Energy Security Council and the China Energy Fund Committee.

Since its inaugural conference in 2012, the Global Forum on Energy Security has become China's premier international platform for deliberations on the changing global energy landscape and China's role in global energy security.

This annual by-invitation-only conference brings together international energy security experts from related countries to discuss current energy security challenges.

1. Topics and Call for Papers

MAIN TOPIC: Changes and Transition in World Energy Market

Sub topics:

- The Middle East: Where to from here?
- US-China relations: Will energy security be the new glue?
- BRI: Common Development with Connectivity
- The future of transportation energy
- Developing the Asia-Pacific natural gas market
- Meeting the cyber challenge to energy systems

GFES will compile and publish Review on Global Energy Security 2016. We call for papers in Chinese and/or English related to the topics of the conference. Papers can be sent for consideration to gfesbeijing@126.com before May 1, 2016.
